3rd & 4th Week update:

In the past two weeks, we focused on building and integrating core system features. We implemented order management, user authentication, and shipment updates, ensuring smooth interaction between different modules. The role-based access system was successfully integrated, allowing admins, customers, and employees to access relevant functionalities. The Admin Dashboard, Customer Panel, and Employee Management system were completed, making it easier to manage orders, customers, and staff. The billing and shipment module was also fully developed, ensuring accurate invoices and shipment updates. However, we faced some issues with backend integration, which have caused the system to not run properly yet. We are actively working on fixing these problems to ensure smooth operation.

Despite these challenges, the Textile Management System is near completion, and we are focusing on debugging and final testing to make it fully functional for use.
